Baby sign language

Level 2

April 2011

Special thanks to Sheri Kauhausen of Intoyoga.ca and the mothers at Kerrisdale Community Centre

Sheri Kauhausen teaches sign language to parents and to babies who hear. She uses American Sign Language in her classes.

Sheri says babies can communicate before they can speak.

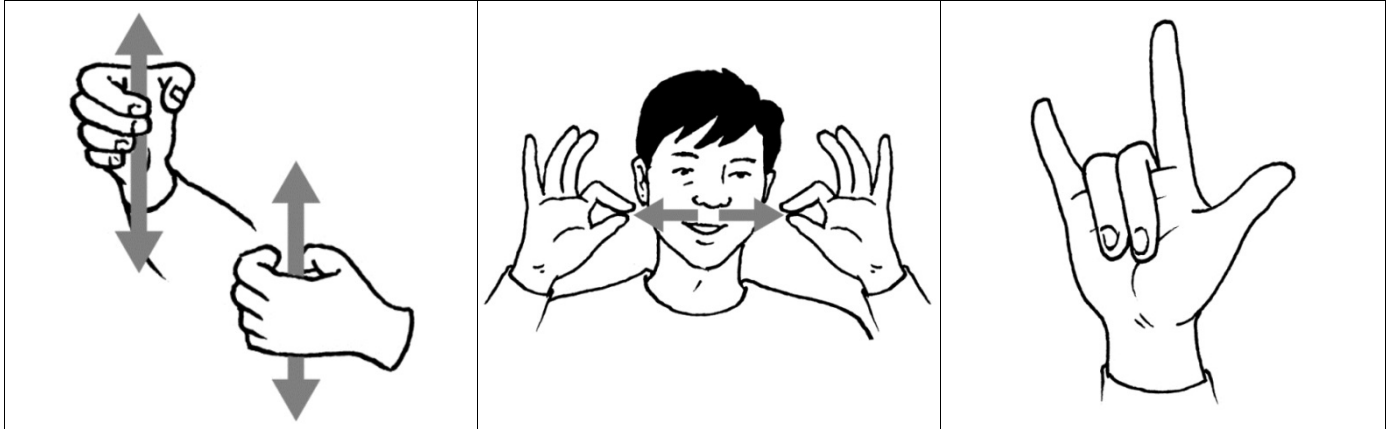

Babies (8–12 months old) can learn signs for things:

- they need
- they know
- they feel

Babies can learn many signs such as "milk", "cat", and "I love you".
