
New Year's Eve 📖

Canadians celebrate New Year's Eve in many ways. Here are some of the most popular traditions.

Countdown

People count down to midnight. They count from 10 to zero. At midnight they wish each other "Happy New Year!"

Many cities set off fireworks at the end of the countdown. People go outside and bang pots and pans.

New Year's kiss

Couples often kiss at midnight. The tradition comes from Germany.

New Year's resolution

Many people think of the new year as a new start. They set goals for themselves. These are called resolutions. Often people set goals to be healthy and save money.

Many cities have fireworks on New Year's Eve.

Adapted from Time • Photo: Unsplash/Mohammed Shamaa