
Nietzsche the cat

Change the sentences

Change the sentences from “Nietzsche the cat” from present tense into past tense.

1. Nietzsche is a famous cat.

2. The stole holds a contest to rename him.

3. Nietzsche likes to walk down the rows of books.

4. He sleeps in a burgundy chair.

5. People visit the store to pet him.

Check your understanding

Answer the questions in full sentences.

1. How did Nietzsche get his new name?

2. Where did Nietzsche live?

3. What did Nietzsche like to do?

Nietzsche the cat

4. What did the store sell with pictures of Nietzsche?

5. Where is the money from the sales donated?

Answers:

Change the sentences

1. Nietzsche was a famous cat.
2. The store held a contest to rename him.
3. Nietzsche liked to walk down the rows of books.
4. He slept in a burgundy chair.
5. People visited the store to pet him.

Check your understanding

1. The store held a contest to rename him.
2. Nietzsche lived in a bookstore called The Book Man.
3. Nietzsche liked to walk down the rows of books.
4. The store sold bookmarks, pins, book bags and calendars.
5. Money from the sales is donated to a cat shelter in Chilliwack.