

---

Haiku poems

---

The LINC 6 class from MOSAIC English Language Centre learned about the Vancouver Cherry Blossom Festival. They celebrated what they learned by writing haiku poems.

A haiku is a Japanese poem. It has a special number of syllables in each line. The first and last lines have five syllables. The middle line has seven syllables.

This is the LINC 6 class.

The LINC 6 class learned about the syllable structure. Then, they wrote their own haiku poems.

Here are the poems they wrote:

There was a strong wind
Many elder trees fell down
But the Forest lived
- by Dzhulyetta

Life is diverse
like the cherry blossoms
that bloom in many colors.
- by Vilawan

Spring is coming
The rainy season is over
Enjoy together
- by Wend

When Spring is coming
Cherry blossoms open in the City
The sun warms my heart
- by Queena

---

Haiku poems

---

Flowers from the trees,
Floating in the air like clouds
Along comes the wind
- by Germaine

Spring is back again
Cherry blossoms in full bloom
Allergies are too...
- by Manami

Cherry blossoms bring
Bittersweet spring memories
Think of friends and home
- by Katsue

I don't know you well
You are so mean to people
Covid go away
- by Gai

Today is sunny day
I meet my friend
We drink coffee together
- by Yurie

Flowers are in bud
Spring is around the corner
Harsh winter was gone.
- by Rebecca

Submitted by MOSAIC English Language Centre • Photo: Jennifer Low